MISS ROOSEVELT'S
NEWPORT VISIT

President's Daughter, Miss Alice, Arrives in Driving Storm to Visit Miss Helen Cutting.

A ROUND OF PLEASURE

Series of Entertainments Are Planned to Make Her Stay a Delightful One.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) NEWPORT, R. I., Tuesday.—In a cold driving rainstorm that had evidently been regarded by cottagers as sufficiently severe to keep them within doors, Miss Alice Roosevelt arrived this afternoon to visit Miss Helen Cutting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton Cutting, who have the pretty Gilbert cottage, in Bellevue avenue. Miss Roosevelt, who had been visiting the family of Justice Mackenna, at York Harbor, Me., reached Newport at ten minutes to six, after a long journey from the Maine resort. Miss Cutting, who drove to an earlier train to meet her guest, was called home by telephone by her parents, who thought the weather too wet and disagreeable to remain out in. Miss Cutting, who took a public cab to her residence, had been some time when the President's daughter arrived.

Miss Roosevelt, who was accompanied by her maid, was developed in a rain coat when she alighted from the train and hurried to the Cutting carriage. She looked extremely well, despite her long day in the train, and was evidently delighted to return to Newport, where she made scores of friends during a brief stay last season.

Miss Roosevelt will be here for several days, and will be the guest of Miss Helen Cutting.

To-morrow afternoon Mrs. Cutting will have a luncheon, and on Thursday evening the Cutting villa will be the scene of a dinner party for the young guest.

ENGAGEMENT THAT AMUSES LONDON

For It Is Hard to Imagine Lady Constance Mackenzie Settling Down to Married Life.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE HERALD.) The Herald's European edition publishes the following from its correspondent in London, Tuesday.—The announcement is made of the engagement of Lady Constance Mackenzie to Captain Fitzgerald, of the Eleventh Hussars.

The Outlook, which chronicles the engagement, says: "It is difficult to imagine Lady Constance, with her wild, roving spirit, ever settling down to married life with all its attendant responsibilities, but it is quite certain that when she does enter the ranks of young married women she will take a leading position."

ROMANCE OF A WORLD TOUR.

Mr. Jorgulesco and Miss Prussing, Who Met While Going Round the Globe, Are Married.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) CHICAGO, Tuesday.—The marriage of Miss Ella G. Prussing, daughter of Mr. Eugene E. Prussing, of No. 535 Dearborn avenue, to Mr. Eugene N. Jorgulesco, took place last evening at the church of the Ascension. Only the immediate family were present at the ceremony. No reception was held. The young people will go at once to Jorgulesco's home, in Bucharest, Roumania.

Miss Prussing first met Mr. Jorgulesco, in Berlin, 1900, when she was a student at the University of Berlin. She was making a tour of the world, and in New York he chanced to see a half-finished painting of Miss Prussing in the studio of an artist friend. Inquiry divulged the information that she was still single and in New York at the time.

Again they met and when she returned to Chicago he came also. The wedding was not expected to take place until fall, but the persistent lover urged an earlier date and succeeded.

HERE'S ANOTHER ROMANCE.

Quator Fairbank's Daughter Was Divorced and Will Marry Her 'Schooldays' Lover.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Tuesday.—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Adelaide Fairbank, eldest daughter of United States Senator Fairbanks, to Eugene Trimmer, U. S. N., was made to-night, and it is understood that the wedding will take place in the near future.

Several years ago, when Miss Fairbank was a little more than a child, she was married to Dr. H. R. Allen, of this city, and was married at the house of a friend. The doctor and Mrs. Fairbank had been long opposed to Dr. Allen, but they forced the daughter and received her husband.

The married life of the couple was far from being happy and less than a year ago they were quietly divorced on complaint of the wife, who alleged neglect and failure to provide, and the decree was granted to her maiden name.

Miss Fairbank and Eugene Trimmer were both at Delaware College and great friends in each other, but they ceased to correspond after leaving college. They met again in Washington last winter and the announced betrothal is the result.

BLAU-STAHLL.

A small wedding yesterday was that of Miss Sarah Stahl, daughter of Mrs. Emily Stahl, to Mr. Joseph Blau, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, No. 24 West 102d street. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were invited to the ceremony and wedding breakfast.

Miss Stahl was given away by her brother, Mr. Bernard Stahl. She wore a gown of white lace over silk, and a veil of point lace. Her bouquet was of white orchids and roses of the valley. There were neither bridesmaids, maid of honor, best man nor

GRANDSON NOW
FOR MR. MORTON

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Rutherford Receiving Congratulations on the Happy Event.

WHO IS BELLE OF NEWPORT? BUT HE IS MARRIED NOW

Many Think That a Modern Paris Would Bestow the Prize on Miss Whelen, of Philadelphia.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) NEWPORT, R. I., Tuesday.—Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Rutherford have been receiving congratulations today on the birth of a son, at the White Cottage, in Red Cross avenue, where they have been for the summer. Mrs. Rutherford was formerly Miss Alice Morton. Her marriage to Mr. Rutherford was celebrated in New York at Grace Church, in February of last year. This is the first grandson born to former Governor Morton. Mother and child are doing well.

Mrs. Rutherford has been in receipt of many cables and telegrams of congratulations, and great quantities of flowers have been left at the cottage. Society has come gallantly to the aid of those boys in blue of the army and navy who do not care to spend their leisure off duty in saloons and are desirous of having a club in which to rest and recuperate when in town. Mr. James J. Van Alen, of Vicksburg, Miss. Newport, who is for an entertainment in aid of the club some time ago, and now Miss Preston, sister of the late Mr. Preston, has consented to sing, and Miss Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Grosvener, will execute a fancy dance.

In a series of tableaux vivants, which will be the feature of the affair, will appear the children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Gehrke, Mrs. George A. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Chiles and Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Withers. The performance will be given on the terrace of the Van Alen villa, where stages will be erected.

A BELLE FROM PHILADELPHIA. For Miss Elsie Whelen, the charming Philadelphia belle, considered by many the belle of the Newport season, Mrs. John R. Whelen, had a large dinner party this evening. The table was adorned with masses of American beauty roses. Miss Whelen's friends, who have been visiting her, are most delighted of the season. After the dinner this evening there was music and dancing. Berger's Hungarian Band, directed by Mr. Whelen, who has been visiting Mrs. William E. Carter, has now moved over to Mrs. John R. Whelen's, where she will stop for a time. She has several invitations to visit at the cottages and will remain here all the rest of the season.

Mr. Oliver J. Fenimore, who arrived at luncheon today, Mrs. William Fitzhugh Whitehouse, Mrs. George B. DeForest and Mr. Lisagard, who had dinner companies this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt made two hundred children, the scholars of the Sunday school of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, very happy to-day, the occasion being the school's annual picnic.

The entertainment was varied and included an electric car ride, sports at island park and a luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt visited their guests late in the afternoon and received three jolly cheers.

COTTAGE NOTES. Among the visitors at the cottages are Miss Maud Livingston, who is the guest of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, R. M. Acosta, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. Philip Lydig; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Allen and family, who are staying with Senator and Mrs. George Peabody Wetmore, and Mrs. Orme Wilson, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. William Astor, whom she will assist in the arrangements for the ball of next Monday.

Miss Leahy returned from New York this afternoon and will remain at her cottage till the end of the season. Mr. Winthrop Chanler went to New York to-day.

Charles H. Berryman, the daughter, Mrs. H. Casimir De Rham, have come to New Haven.

Miss Richard H. Townsend has given up a proposed visit to Bar Harbor, and will remain here till late in October. Mr. Lisagard Stewart, Mr. Eugene N. Jorgulesco, returned from New York this evening. Mr. George C. Munstig has arrived, to remain for the rest of the season.

Senator and Mrs. Claude M. Dewey are to come to Newport for the Horse Show. They will visit at the Brookers. Captain Henry W. Miller, U. S. N., and Mrs. Miller have arrived at Bateman's.

Registered at the Casino to-day were Miss Henry White, Mr. Eugene N. Jorgulesco, Miss Rosamond Street, Mr. Henry Lydig and Mr. Atherton Blight.

A party of swimming friends here caused a good deal of amusement to none more than to Mr. Lydig, probably. Mrs. Lydig can do a great many things, but she cannot swim a stroke, and none but a professional could make Brenton's Reef look like a leading position.

SON TO MRS. STUYVESANT

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) HACKETTSTOWN, N. J., Tuesday.—A private telegram received here to-day from Newport conveyed the news that Mrs. Winthrop Rutherford had a son, here this morning to a son. Congratulations, however, were not confined to the members of the Rutherford family at Newport, for Mrs. Rutherford Stuyvesant, to Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford Stuyvesant, their country place, at Hackettstown, N. J., where they have a large property. Numerous telegrams and cables were received during the day. Mrs. Stuyvesant and her son were reported to-night seriously injured by a dinner party given at Sherry's last winter.

Mrs. Stuyvesant is a brother-in-law of Mr. Henry White, of the American Embassy in London. His estate at Allamuchy, N. J., has been for generations in his family.

ACCIDENT TO MRS. LEIDY.

Has a Bad Fall in the Adirondacks and Is Seriously Injured.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) NARRAGANSETT, R. I., Tuesday.—News has been received here to-day of an accident to Mrs. Joseph Leidy, wife of Dr. Joseph Leidy, of Belvoir on the Cliffs, Narragansett. Mrs. Leidy is at her summer home, Narragansett, where she has been for the Adirondacks. She fell from the porch of her cabin at dusk last evening and was quite seriously injured by the fall.

Reports today received by Dr. Leidy, who is at the pier, indicate that she is progressing favorably.

There was a children's favor cotillion at the Mathewson this afternoon, which was attended by the young dancers from the hotels and cottages. Bridge whist and two-handed euchre have filled the day at Narragansett, and wood fires have blazed cheerily in hotel lodges, all on account of the northeast storm which set in here to-day.

Measures, J. Insley Blair, James C. Cooley, Jr., and Howard C. Brook, of the Westchester polo team, are at the Gladstone. Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Crane, Jr., of Dedham; Mr. B. J. Horton, of Providence, and Mr. L. McCreery, of San Francisco, are at the Mathewson.

BAR HARBOR NOTES.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) BAR HARBOR, Me., Tuesday.—The Countess de Laugier-Villars gave a dinner to-night for Ambassador and Mrs. Charles Mackenna.

The first weekly hop at the Louisbourg was given to-night, and hops will be given every week hereafter.

MATINEE IDOL
FROM LONDON

Henry Ainley, New Leading Man for Empire Theatre Stock Company, Arrives.

NEVERTHELESS, BEING A HANDSOME, MANLY

Looking Actor, "Matinee Girls" will Probably Think He "Will Do."

Accompanied by his bride, who was Miss Suzanne Sheldon, of this city, Henry Ainley, a handsome young English actor, whom Mr. Charles Frohman has engaged as leading man of the Empire Theatre stock company, arrived here on the steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm yesterday. Mrs. Ainley, who is a sister of Miss Elizabeth Sheldon, Mr. Anthony Hope's fiancée, is to be Charles Richman's leading woman this season.

Matinee girls will find much to admire in Mr. Ainley. He is a manly young fellow, of medium stature, well built, and has clear cut features and dark, wavy hair. He has something besides good looks to recommend him, however. He was a member of Mr. F. R. Benson's repertoire company in England for four years, playing in that time all the well known juvenile roles in Shakespeare's plays. He displayed such ability that Mr. George Alexander engaged him to play Paolo in "Paolo and Francesca," and in this role he won the popular favor of London theatergoers.

And really can't tell you anything about my plans just now," said Mr. Ainley to a Herald reporter last evening. "For I don't know what Mr. Frohman has in mind for me. He was so busy when about the couldn't outline his plans. I am to see him to-morrow. Of course, my wife and I are very glad to be in New York, and to play with Charles Richman, you know."

Mr. Ainley's first appearance in the Herald reporter last evening. "For I don't know what Mr. Frohman has in mind for me. He was so busy when about the couldn't outline his plans. I am to see him to-morrow. Of course, my wife and I are very glad to be in New York, and to play with Charles Richman, you know."

MR. HENRY AINLEY. He is very fit and is eager to begin rehearsals. Mr. and Mrs. Ainley were married on June 2 at Mr. William Faversham's country place, near London.

MR. WHITNEY HOME AGAIN.

F. C. Whitney, under whose management Mrs. Schumann-Heink is to star here in comic opera for three years, returned yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm from a six weeks' trip abroad, during which he completed the final arrangements for the prima donna's tour.

Mr. Whitney's trip was the result of a diplomatic mission. It seems that when the singer affixed her signature to a contract, she was writing at the same time a letter to Mr. Whitney, who is the manager of the opera house, as she belongs to a court the and, then, too, her husband—for opera singers are not always to be lightly considered—had not been consulted. The consent of the officials and that of the diva's husband had to be obtained.

Mr. Whitney found that the Royal Opera was not inclined to be deprived of her services. But the manager of the opera house, Count Hochberg, the intendant of the Royal Opera, imperial consent to the project was obtained, provided the prima donna should appear in Berlin two weeks during the summer following the beginning of the season.

Everything is all settled now," said Mr. Whitney to a Herald reporter last evening. Stanislaus Slane, and John and Miss Whitney, who are to be the principal artists in the concert, are to be joined by Madame Schumann-Heink and myself in Munich and we talked over the plans for the tour.

Mr. Whitney said that the concert was pleased with what the composers have outlined for her. She is to come over here in the autumn, and will begin rehearsals in April and will begin rehearsals of her opera. She will remain over here all summer.

"Did you buy any plays on the other side?"

"No, I don't deal in antiquities. I think that the American dramatists and composers have fresher and brighter ideas and as long as the public will allow me to do so, I am going to continue to produce the product of American genius only."

Concerning his plans for the coming season, Mr. Whitney said that the opera would soon begin for "Lady Bernintha's Secret," a comedy in which he is to star. Mrs. Leidy, who is to be the principal artist in the concert, are to be joined by Madame Schumann-Heink and myself in Munich and we talked over the plans for the tour.

THEATRICAL JOTTINGS.

Just a little bit between Miss Emma Cerny and George W. Lederer at rehearsal yesterday gave (possibly something) talk about, nothing in it. Weather's enough to make anybody mad.

Miss Beale Baldwin has been engaged by Maurice Campbell to play the part of Andromeda in Miss Campbell's new play, "The Girl of the Year," which opens at the Manhattan Theatre September 7.

Mr. Charles R. Dillingham's preparations for his season are well under way. The opening performance of "The Girl of the Year" will be given on September 7. The play will be given at the Manhattan Theatre, September 7. The play will be given at the Manhattan Theatre, September 7.

GOLFERS COMPETE FOR WESTERN CUP

Chandler and Walter Egan Gain Matches in the Preliminary Round at Cleveland.

E. M. BYERS ALSO A WINNER

Louis James, the National Champion, Draws a Bye, but Is Pitted To-Day Against R. A. Mead.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Tuesday.—The first day of the Western amateur golf championship opened with anything but good weather for golf. A cold, searching wind, blowing off Lake Erie, added to a steady drizzle made golfing difficult and to say the least uncomfortable. Twenty-two pairs contested in the preliminary round, the rest of the forty-two drawing byes.

Louis James, the national champion, drew a bye, while H. Chandler Egan, the present Western champion, defeated R. Deming, of Cleveland, 5 up and 4 to go. Walter Egan beat H. W. Fraser, one of Toledo's best golfers, handily. E. M. Byers won his match with ease.

In the first round at match play Louis James meets R. A. Mead, while Walter Egan is pitted against the Iowa State champion, W. Dickinson, of Des Moines. The results:

Frank Weber, Toledo, defeated R. F. York, Cleveland, 2 up and 3 to go. Chandler Egan, defeated R. Deming, Cleveland, 5 up and 4 to go. Walter Egan, defeated H. W. Fraser, Toledo, 1 up and 2 to go. E. M. Byers, defeated R. A. Mead, 1 up and 2 to go. Louis James, defeated R. A. Mead, 1 up and 2 to go. Louis James, defeated R. A. Mead, 1 up and 2 to go.

Races Lose Interest, Polo Game Is Abandoned and Gayeties Are Dropped.

ROBBERY STORY A CANARD

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey and Mr. August Belmont Among the Expected Visitors.

(SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.) SARATOGA, N. Y., Tuesday.—After the gloom of the opening day of the racing season Saratoga is suffering from a reaction that is depressing. The clouds which threatened all day yesterday turned loose their floods to-day, dampening everything, even the ardor of the most enthusiastic racegoers. The polo games which were scheduled for this afternoon had to be postponed and invitations for several parties were withdrawn.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey will arrive here to-morrow afternoon, a cottage having been reserved for them at the United States Hotel. Admiral Dewey is partial to Saratoga and it is his present intention to remain here at least a month. While he and his wife are here society will be much enlivened, preparations having been made for entertaining them in various ways. Mr. August Belmont will also arrive at the United States to-morrow morning. He will remain here the remainder of the week and if things run smoothly in Wall street he may remain a fortnight.

NO ROBBERY, ONLY PRECAUTION. A sensation was caused here to-night by the report that a big robbery had been avoided by the efforts of the private detectives connected with the race track. It is probable that the report grew out of the result of the Grand Union Hotel to no longer be responsible for the "bank rolls" of the bookmakers living there.

More than one hundred layers of odds are at Saratoga and the majority of them are at the Grand Union; others, while not living there, have been in the habit of leaving their money in the hotel's safe during the night.

Of course other patrons do the same thing. It has happened that there has been more than a million dollars in cash locked up in the Grand Union safes some of the night. The hotel's management is a little nervous. So the notice was given that the responsibility will no longer be accepted. Whether this move is a precautionary measure or the step was taken after a warning of an intended raid is not known. It is like the sensational report to believe that information was received of an intended robbery.

CHAUFFEURS MORE CAREFUL. For the first time this year the law against speeding automobiles has been enforced, and since the arrest made yesterday greater care has been exercised by chauffeurs. J. J. Ryan, of Clinton, who possesses a forty horse power De Dietrich machine which he believes is faster than anything of its kind in the major of cars here, his chauffeur was caught by a policeman while running at something less than sixty miles an hour.

News that the trial of Richard Canfield would be held in Broome county was received here to-day and was more than acceptable to the friends of the man who is under indictment as a common gambler. Broome county is one of those in which Senator Edgar T. Brackett has much influence.
